Tagging (subject to change)

Tag all documents reviewed so that we can come back to them later and easily locate as needed.
Each document may receive MULTIPLE tags, including sub-tags.

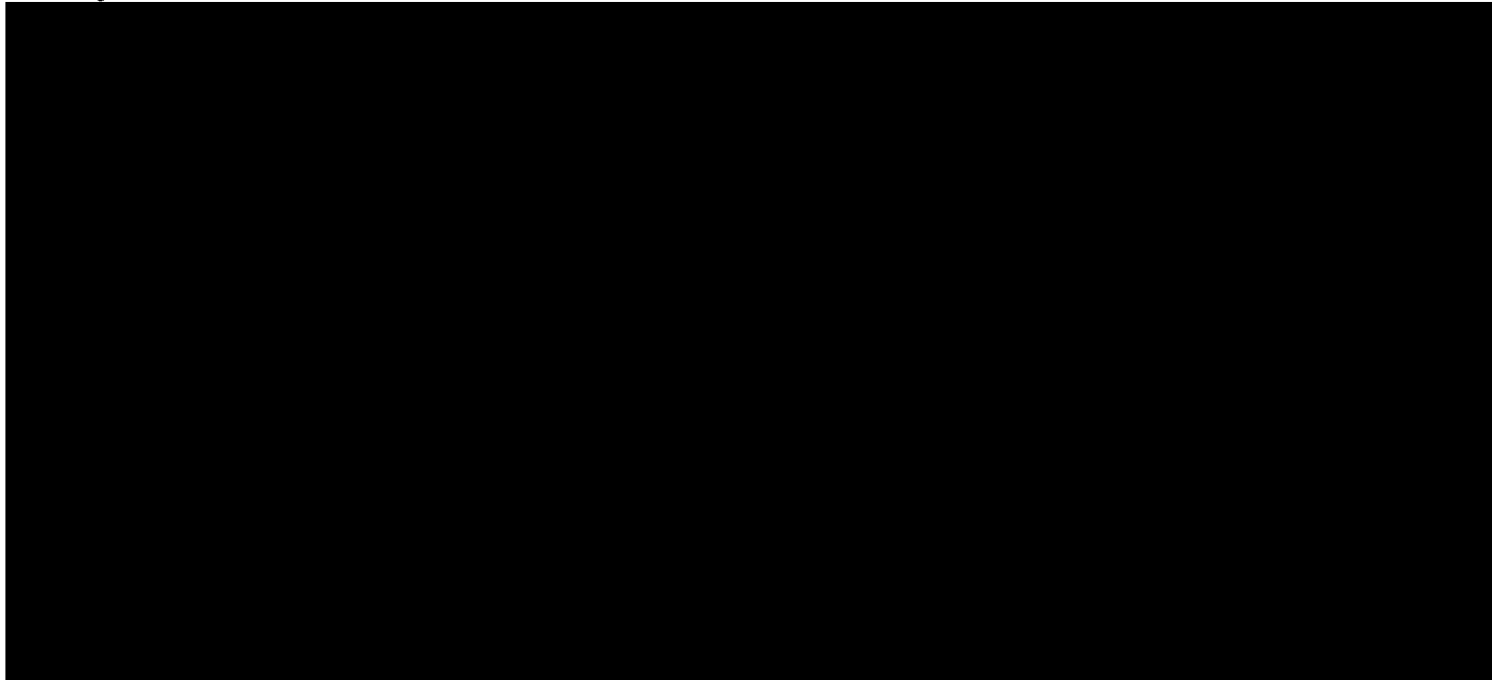

TAG	EXPLANATION
Nonresponsive	Use this tag for documents that are either: (1) not responsive to defendants' requests for production, or (2) relate to a request for which [REDACTED] has declined to produce documents. (See Chart of Plaintiff's Positions with respect to Document Requests)
[REDACTED]	[REDACTED]
Responsive Sub-tags include: [REDACTED] [REDACTED]	Use this tag for documents responsive to defendants' requests for production, limited by [REDACTED] objections.
Key Doc	Use this tag for documents that directly relate to whether our claims are actionable [REDACTED] [REDACTED] USE SPARINGLY (i.e. 1% of documents reviewed).
Interesting Doc	Use this tag for documents that are interesting or important to the case and you feel should be flagged for the group, such as documents that would be helpful in depositions or briefs [REDACTED] [REDACTED] (i.e. 10% of documents reviewed).
Not Confidential	Public documents, new reports, SEC filings, etc.
Not Privileged	Any documents that are not subject to privilege
Privileged - Withhold Sub-tags include: (a) "A/C" (attorney-client privilege); (b) "W/P" (work product privilege); (c) deliberative process.	Use this tag for documents that are responsive/relevant, but that are subject to either the attorney-client privilege or work product privilege.
Reviewer Question/Follow-Up	Use this tag for documents for which you are struggling to make a production call; make all efforts to discuss the document with a member of the Second Level Review Team prior to using this tag.
Technical Issues	Use this tag for documents with technical issues that you are unable to resolve on your own (e.g. documents that are in an unreadable format or cannot be opened).
Second Level Review Complete	DO NOT USE – to be used by Second Level Review Team only.
Highly Confidential – Second Review Only	DO NOT USE – to be used by Second Level Review Team only.

Privilege

- One of the most important things to keep in mind during this review is protecting [REDACTED] and the [REDACTED] privileged documents.
- Under Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(b)(1), parties may only obtain discovery of relevant nonprivileged matters. Thus, if a document is privileged, the Defendants are not entitled to it.
- You should review for privilege on all documents you consider responsive. Reviewers should err in favor of designating a document which has any possibility of being privileged as “privileged.” If you determine that the document is privileged, or has any possibility of being privileged, please select the “Privileged” tag.
- While we are relying on privileged search terms, they are not going to capture every privileged document. Do not assume that because a document lacks a privileged search term, it is not privileged.
- This summary is no substitute for questions—if you have any questions, ask them. Privilege can be tricky and there are a lot of gray areas so chances are if you have a question, someone else does too.

What is a privileged document?

- Attorney-Client Privilege/Work Product Immunity:

- Documents may be protected from disclosure under the attorney-client privilege if the document constitutes, contains or references a confidential communication made between lawyer and client for the purpose of giving or receiving legal advice.
- The attorney work product immunity is intended to protect from disclosure an attorney's mental impressions, opinions, conclusions or legal theories prepared in anticipation of litigation or for trial. A document will be protected from disclosure under the attorney work product immunity if the document constitutes a confidential document or memorandum, prepared by or at the direction of an attorney, revealing the attorney's mental impressions, opinions, conclusions or legal theories, and prepared in anticipation of litigation or for trial.
- BE ON THE LOOK-OUT FOR THE LEGAL PROFESSIONAL SEARCH TERMS DURING YOUR REVIEW.

- Documents Marked with “Privileged” or “Work Product”
Headings:
 - Pay careful attention to documents marked with “PRIVILEGED” or “WORK PRODUCT” labels. All such documents should be marked as “privileged.” These labels are usually at the top of the page or at the end of a document.
- Documents of the same “family” consistently marked:
 - If you believe that a document is privileged, all documents in the same family should be marked as privileged.
- Attorney as Custodian:
 - Documents that list an attorney as the custodian should be marked as privileged.
- NOTE: Reviewer should still use subject tags even if marking the document as privileged or highly confidential.
